Introduction

1. This document explains the approach being taken by Tunbridge Wells Borough Council (the Council) to calculate its housing land supply position. The calculation is a comparison between the anticipated supply of new homes against the number of new homes that are required to be built within the borough (which is either a four- or five-year requirement as per the December 2023 update to the NPPF which is discussed further below in Paragraph 5). The calculation is expressed as the number of years' worth of supply, and to avoid being skewed by annual fluctuations in housing supply, it is calculated over a five-year period. For a Local Planning Authority (LPA) to be able to state that it has an adequate housing land supply to meet either a four- or five-year requirement (whichever is required for the Local Authority), the supply of housing should therefore equal or exceed four or five years plus any applicable buffers (as per the latest Housing Delivery Test (HDT) result which is usually published early each calendar year).
2. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF; 2023) requires Local Planning Authorities to calculate housing need using the Standard Method unless exceptional circumstances justify an alternative approach (Paragraph 61). The Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) further clarifies that "where strategic policies are more than 5 years old or have been reviewed and found in need of updating, local housing need calculated using the standard method should be used in place of the housing requirement" (see Housing Supply and Delivery, Paragraph: 003 Reference ID: 68-003-20190722). As the Council's latest adopted Plan, the 2010 Core Strategy, is more than 5 years old, the Council therefore must measure its housing land supply against the area's local housing need calculated using the Standard Method. In addition, in calculating the housing requirement figure, the guidance notes that the current year should be "used as the starting point from which to calculate growth over that period" (see Housing and Economic Needs Assessment, Paragraph: 004 Reference ID: 2a-004-20201216). For example, the need identified in the 2018/19 statement was 682 dwellings per annum which used 2019 as the base date, which subsequently reduced to 678 per annum for 2019/20 which used 2020 as the base date.

3. However, given that the Council is already partly through the emerging Local Plan's plan period (2020-2038), for the purpose of calculating the housing land supply position the Council have previously referred to the need of 678 per annum which relates to its base date of April 2020 (see both the 2021 and 2022 Statements), and the most recent 2023 Statement referred to the Standard Method target of 667 dwellings per annum using 2023 as the base date. This 2024 Statement accordingly uses 2024 as the base date which results in a Standard Method target of 660 dwellings per annum. This updated housing target reflects the PPG (see Housing and Economic Needs Assessment, Paragraph: 008 Reference ID: 2a-008-20190220) which states that "local housing need calculated using the standard method may be relied upon for a period of 2 years from the time that a plan is submitted to the Planning Inspectorate for examination." As the Local Plan was submitted on 1 November 2021, and remains at examination, the Council considers that the housing need may be reviewed using the latest figure (of 660), which is only slightly lower than 667, and 678 used previously. This updated housing need figure of 660 is currently proposed within the emerging Local Plan housing trajectory, which is now at an advanced stage in the examination process. The Council considers, however, that it remains prudent to have regard to any shortfall, or surplus, in delivery during the 2020-2024 period (particularly as the emerging Plan period will retain its base date of 2020).

4. It should also be noted that the Standard Method uses the 2014 Household Projections to calculate the housing requirement within the borough. While more recent household projections have been published (2016- and 2018-based), the PPG clarifies that the "2014-based household projections are used within the standard method to provide stability for planning authorities and communities, ensure that historic under-delivery and declining affordability are reflected, and to be consistent with the Government's objective of significantly boosting the supply of homes" (see Housing and Economic Needs Assessment, Paragraph: 005 Reference ID: 2a-005-20190220).

Four- or Five-Year Housing Land Supply Requirement

5. Regarding whether the Council is required to demonstrate a four- or five-year housing land supply, as above the NPPF was updated in December 2023. Paragraphs 77 and 226 of the NPPF make it clear that Local Planning Authorities will only be required to identify and update annually a supply of specific deliverable sites sufficient to provide a minimum of four years' worth of housing against local housing need (where adopted housing requirements are out-of-date) where the Local Planning Authority has an emerging Local Plan that has been submitted for examination or has reached Regulation 18 or 19 stage. This means that given that the Council's emerging Local Plan is currently subject to examination, the Council is only required to demonstrate a four-year supply. It is acknowledged, however, that the four-year supply requirement is only temporary and may be subject to amendment or removal following any future changes to the NPPF; notwithstanding potential amendments, however, the current NPPF requirement of four years remains the Council's requirement. Any subsequent changes to national policy will be reflected within a updated Statement or statement on the Council's Monitoring Webpage.
6. Moreover, the 5% buffer to the four and five-year target requirements is no longer applicable, and given the Council's latest Housing Delivery Test result of 96%, no other buffer should be applied. Clarification from the then Department of Levelling Up Housing and Communities on 5 February 2024 also confirmed that the four-year supply requirement will be based on the performance against 5-year housing land supply, and not an alternative calculation.

What Counts as Housing Towards a Local Planning Authority's Housing Supply?

7. Homes are classed as any self-contained permanent residential dwelling that has been established through the planning application process. The housing land supply calculation is concerned with the 'net' increase to the housing stock (taking into account any demolitions). While the re-use of empty homes provides an important source to meet housing needs, as with replacement dwellings, bringing empty homes back into use does not normally add to the overall supply of new housing as there is no 'net' increase in supply.
8. Communal accommodation (most commonly C2 care homes and student accommodation) can also be counted towards the housing land supply, albeit not on a like-for-like basis in comparison to C3 housing units (unless, such as in the case of student accommodation, the units are studio flats which are self-contained with their own kitchen and bathroom facilities that fully functions as an independent dwelling). The contribution that communal accommodation makes to the supply of housing is based upon the amount of housing that is released upon the occupation of communal units. This value is calculated through a formula determined by the average number of adults currently in households and the average number of students currently in student-only households.

Tunbridge Wells Borough Council's Housing Land Supply Position

9. Each year, the Council prepares a calculation to show the updated housing land supply position for the borough as at 1st April (the base date). Table 1 below has been prepared that clearly presents the steps taken to arrive at the housing land supply outcome. For the period of monitoring covered by this document, the annual housing requirement is 660 dwellings per annum. As discussed above (see Paragraph 3), this is a slight revision to the previous identified annual target of 667.

This figure is based on the Standard Method position as at 1 April 2024 using the Household Projections for 2014.

10. While the Standard Method takes into account previous delivery, and therefore there is no need to separately address any previous under-supply, it is noted that the Council is partly through an emerging Local Plan's plan period (2020-2038) meaning that regard will be given to any shortfall or surplus in delivery during 2020-24. The Council considers that the most appropriate approach to addressing any shortfall in previous delivery within the plan period is to distribute the shortfall over the next five-year period. The purpose of this is primarily to encourage a 'bounce-back' in local housing delivery. On the other hand, with regard to any surplus, it is considered most appropriate to spread any surplus in housing delivery over the remaining emerging Local Plan's plan period, rather than over the following five-year period, primarily to discourage any 'brake' in local housing delivery, but to instead keep housing delivery in line with the Local Plan target.

11. The current housing land supply position (as at 1st April 2024) is shown in Table 1 below (figures presented in right-hand column) with an explanation as to how each stage is calculated in the third column.

Table 1 - How the Housing Land Supply Position is Calculated for Five-Year Period 1 April 2024 to 31 March 2029

Row	Housing Land Supply Component	How is Component Calculated	Housing Land Supply Calculations (April 2024-March 2029)
1	Annualised Need Across Five-Year Period	Calculated using the Standard Method using base date of 1 April 2024	660
2	Completions Between 1 April 2020 – 31 March 2024	Number of completions recorded through annual monitoring work for 2020/21, 2021/22, 2022/23, and 2023/24 monitoring periods	2,453 (688+518+636+611)

Row	Housing Land Supply Component	How is Component Calculated	Housing Land Supply Calculations (April 2024-March 2029)
3	Spreading the Shortfall Over the Next Five Years	688 (2020/21), 518 (2021/22), 636 (2022/23), and 611 (2023/24) completions against the need of 660 over four years represents a shortfall of 187 dwellings. This shortfall is divided over the next five years.	37.4
4	Revised Annualised Need Across Five-Year Period	Need of 660 plus annualised shortfall of 37.4	697.4
5	Five-Year Requirement	Row 4 multiplied by 5 (rounded to the nearest whole number)	3,487
6	Any Applicable Buffers	Due to the Council's latest Housing Delivery Test result of 96%, no buffer is applicable	0
7	Total Five-Year Housing Land Supply Need	Row 5 plus Row 6 (rounded to the nearest whole number)	3,487
8	Annualised Five-Year Housing Land Supply Need	Row 7 divided by 5 (rounded to the nearest whole number)	697
9	Phasing of Extant Planning Permissions Within Five-Year Period	A separate list is provided to support this figure in Table 3 in Appendix 1 . This represents the number of dwellings expected to be delivered within the five-year period. This figure is inclusive of any C2 discount	2,484
10	Phasing of Non-Consented Identified Sites Within Five-Year Period (as Allocated in the Site Allocations Local Plan (2016))	A separate list is provided to support this figure in Table 4 in Appendix 2 . This represents the number of dwellings expected to be delivered within the five-year period. This figure is inclusive of any C2 discount	140

Row	Housing Land Supply Component	How is Component Calculated	Housing Land Supply Calculations (April 2024-March 2029)
11	Phasing of Non-Consented Identified Sites Within Five-Year Period (as Allocated in the Benenden Neighbourhood Development Plan)	A separate list is provided to support this figure in Table 5 in Appendix 3 . This represents the number of dwellings expected to be delivered within the five-year period. This figure is inclusive of any C2 discount	100
12	Windfall Allowance (Years 4 and 5)	This figure has been calculated through work carried out by the Planning Policy Team as part of the preparation for the emerging Local Plan. The figure is the annual windfall allowance multiplied by 2 (for years 4 and 5)	304
13	Total Identified Supply	Total of Rows 9, 10, 11, and 12	3,028
14	Supply Position (Years)	The number of Years' Supply. (Row 13 divided by Row 7, multiplied by 5 years)	4.34

12. Table 1 shows that, based on the Standard Method calculation for local housing need and with no applicable buffers, at 1 April 2024 the Council can demonstrate a housing land supply of 4.34 years.
13. The Council has taken into account any surplus or shortfall from within the emerging Local Plan's plan period. As a shortfall of 187 units was recorded over the first four years of the plan period, the Sedgefield approach has been applied (see Paragraph 10). This results in a revised annualised target of 697 (rounded from 697.4) dwellings per annum.

Deliverability of Sites

14. To be considered as deliverable within the next five years, the NPPF under the definition for 'Deliverable' states that a site should be:

- Available – the site is available now;
- Suitable – the site offers a suitable location for development now; and,
- Achievable – there is a realistic prospect that housing will be delivered on the site within five years.

15. For each of the sites included within the five-year period, various details are used as evidence to ensure they meet the requirements of the NPPF (listed above). This information includes:

- For sites with planning approval, details of a site's availability for development have been sought (discussed further on), to include, for example, timescales for delivery/completions to ascertain achievability within the five-year period. It may be that on larger sites only a proportion of the planning approval will be delivered within the first five years due to longer-term phasing and a staggered release of completed units.
- For sites without planning approval (i.e., identified/allocated sites), assessments (as part of preparing the Site Allocations Local Plan (SALP; 2016) and a recent review of these sites for inclusion within the emerging Local Plan) have been carried out by Council officers to calculate the estimated capacity for each site. Each site has unique characteristics and, rather than apply a standard approach (e.g., a simple housing density calculation), a more contextual assessment has been adopted which includes aspects of urban design and local distinctiveness, to provide greater accuracy and certainty on the actual development potential of the sites. It is still recognised that only a planning approval will be able to provide an actual figure of the development capacity of the site and therefore the capacity on identified sites is subject to change.
- Additional information, as up to date as possible, obtained from the developer, agent, and/or applicant of an extant planning permission that supports including the site within the five-year period, including phasing and build-out rate information. Where information has not been obtained from the developer, agent, and/or applicant, the Council may also independently review marketing details on sites (such as contacting local estate agents or sales executives on larger sites), any recent planning history in discussion with Council case officers

(such as recent discharging of conditions/submission of details), Council Tax records through contacting Revenues and Benefits, Building Control completion records, and Energy Performance Certificate records (required for new-build development post-completion and prior to occupation). For those sites where planning permissions have recently expired or are due to expire shortly after the base date of the new five-year housing land supply period, the Council has aimed to confirm whether the consented development has been implemented and/or is being advertised for the consented use or if the previous use (prior to consent) is still being advertised or is currently occupied as per the previous use. Where the latter is the case, the Council has made the decision to assume that such permissions will not be deliverable.

- A number of sites with planning permission have been subject to an assessment of their viability by an independent viability consultant during the course of assessing/determining the planning application. For other sites, it is assumed that, as the site is being promoted for development, then development of the site is viable. If a developer has informed the Council that a permission is no longer viable (e.g. due to fluctuating market conditions), and/or if the developer has run into financial difficulties, then the Council has made a decision to either include or exclude the site from the five-year housing land supply period depending on whether the site has been implemented (i.e., is under construction) as well as the extent to which the site is built-out, and if the developer is still seeking to promote and deliver the site (dependent on, for example, possible amendments sought to the current permission to ensure viability).

16. Further discussion on the different components of the Council's housing land supply, as well as their deliverability, is provided in the following sections.

Identified (non-Permitted) SALP (2016) Sites

17. These comprise residential allocations in the SALP (2016), where planning permission has yet to be granted for their development as at the base date of this Statement. Consequently, the figure/capacity, as identified in the SALP, included within the five-year period may not equal the figure/capacity granted in any planning consent. The site capacities of these sites were originally determined based on site-specific assessments as part of preparing the SALP, although, as noted above, a recent further assessment based on more up-to-date information has taken place on these SALP sites for inclusion within the emerging Local Plan. It should also be noted that there may be sites which already partly benefit from planning permission, in which case the planning consent has been discounted from the phased capacity to avoid double-counting.

18. This recent assessment therefore provides a revised indication of each site's most likely capacity (as compared to their capacities identified in the SALP). These assessments can be found in the emerging Local Plan's Core Documents List (see Strategic Housing and Economic Land Availability Assessment (SHELAA) [CD 3.77a-s]).
19. Consequently, all sites allocated in the SALP which have yet to be granted planning permission, and which are allocated in the emerging Local Plan (therefore excluding non-permitted SALP sites with revised capacities of less than 10 units or which are no longer considered available), can be included within the five-year period. However, inclusion of these sites is still subject to an assessment of likelihood of delivery within the five-year period depending on the evidence available. This means that sites may also be phased both within and beyond the five-year period if it is considered that the site, in its entirety, is unlikely to be delivered within the five-year period.
20. The NPPF under the definition of "Deliverable" notes that sites allocated in a development plan "should only be considered deliverable where there is clear evidence that housing completions will begin on site within five years". Consequently, in determining whether an identified site will be delivered within the five-year period:
 - The Council has reviewed whether the site has any relevant recent planning activity prior to planning consent, such as whether the site has an active/undetermined planning application or if pre-application advice meetings have taken place which are consequently factored into the Council's phasing assumptions.

- The Council has factored in whether there has been any recent correspondence with the site promoters as part of the preparation of the emerging Local Plan which indicates when a site may be delivered. This also includes regard given to representations submitted during the Regulation 18 consultation on the Draft Local Plan, supported by representations submitted during the March – June 2021 Regulation 19 consultation on the Pre-Submission Local Plan. However, the Council has sought to refer to the most recent and up-to-date information and correspondence. As such, some identified sites may not be included within the five-year period if correspondence indicates that they will be delivered beyond the five-year period (either in part or in their entirety).
- Discussions with senior officers in Planning Services have also been useful, as officers usually have broad, up-to-date knowledge of sites within the borough and any latest (including pre-app) discussions.

21. For those sites listed in Table 4 (Appendix 2), for inclusion within the five-year period the Council must demonstrate that there is clear evidence that housing completions will begin on site within five years. This justification is provided for each site in Table 2, with phasing details provided in Table 4 (Appendix 2). Sites included in previous iterations of this Statement which have been removed are those sites which now have full planning permission (or a resolution to grant planning permission) and are therefore counted separately under extant planning permissions (Table 3) to avoid double-counting.

Southern Gas Networks confirmed to the Council in April 2022 that the site had been sold to a construction company. There have also been recent pre-application discussions between the Council and the new landowner regarding redevelopment of the site which accounts for required remediation works on the site. Three gasholders on the site have been cut-off from the gas network, decommissioned and dismantled. Therefore, given that the site has been acquired by a developer who is keen to build-out on the site within the next five years, it is considered that there is clear evidence that part of the site (140 units of 170-200) will be delivered within the five-year period

Identified (non-Permitted) Benenden Neighbourhood Development Plan Sites

22. In addition to site allocations in the Council's SALP (2016), four site allocations have recently been allocated in the 'made' Benenden Neighbourhood Development Plan. This Plan was 'made' by Tunbridge Wells Borough Council at Full Council on 23 February 2022. A link to the Neighbourhood Development Plan webpage can be found here. These site allocations therefore form part of the Development Plan and in accordance with the NPPF can be included with the housing land supply calculations, subject to where there is clear evidence that housing completions will begin on site within five-years. These sites can be found in Table 5 of Appendix 3. SSP1 has extant planning permission as at 1 April 2024 under 19/00822/HYRBRID (and a recent Reserved Matters permitted on 16 May 2024 under 24/00744/REM), SSP2 (Uphill) is subject to a live planning application for 22 units under 23/02523/FULL with a developer onboard which demonstrates that the site will likely come forward within the next five years, and SSP3 and SPP4 (Benenden Hospital), while allocated for net 49 units in the NDP, benefits from a recent planning permission under 23/03274/FULL for net 81 units which was permitted in September 2024; while permitted after the base date, it is considered appropriate to phase the full capacity which has been consented. Applications to discharge planning conditions have already been submitted which indicates that the site will come forward within the next five years..

Sites with Outstanding Planning Permissions (Extant Consents) and Extant Prior Notifications

23. In the NPPF's definition of 'Deliverable', it states: "sites which do not involve major development and have planning permission, and all sites with detailed planning permission, should be considered deliverable until permission expires, unless there is clear evidence that homes will not be delivered within five years (for example because they are no longer viable, there is no longer a demand for the type of units or sites have long term phasing plans)". Consequently, the Council has made the assumption that all small sites will be deliverable within the five-year period unless there is sufficient available evidence to suggest that this is not the case.
24. In light of the above, where the Council has received (e.g., from the applicant) or obtained information confirming that an extant planning consent as at 1 April 2024 will not be proceeded with/implemented by an applicant, the Council has removed these extant planning consents from contributing toward supply (including beyond the five-year period).
25. It is also acknowledged that the NPPF, also under the definition of 'Deliverable', states that "where a site has outline planning permission for major development, has been allocated in a development plan, has a grant of permission in principle, or is identified on a brownfield register, it should only be considered deliverable where there is clear evidence that housing completions will begin on site within five years". As at 1 April 2024, there are three outline (or Hybrid) permissions for major residential development, all of which have been phased within the five-year period. The former site of Springfield Nurseries, which currently benefits from outline permission under 17/02192/OUT, is subject to a current reserved matters application under 23/03183/REM which indicates that the site is likely to come forward within the next five years. Land South of Brenchley Road in Horsmonden also benefits from a resolution to grant planning permission under 22/00296/OUT for 68 units; there is a developer onboard, and there is no evidence to indicate that a reserved matters application will not be submitted once the outline application is determined and the S106 legal agreement completed. Accordingly, it is considered appropriate to phase the site within the five-year period. Finally, Land North of Birchfield Grove benefits from a resolution to grant planning permission under 22/02664/HYBRID for 70 units; similarly, there is a developer onboard, and there is no evidence to indicate that a reserved matters application will not be submitted once the hybrid application is determined with a S106 legal agreement completed. Accordingly, it is similarly considered appropriate to phase the site within the five-year period.

26. As at 1 April 2024, there are no extant permission in principle (PIP) applications for residential development.
27. In addition to the above, it is considered that one other application that has received a resolution to grant prior to the base date of this Statement (that is, they had been approved by Planning Committee or by Planning Officers but a decision was yet to be issued, usually while a Section 106 Agreement was being agreed and signed) also falls within the NPPF's definition of sites which have a grant of permission in principle. This application relates to the W A Turner Ltd Site on Broadwater Lane which received a resolution to grant planning permission (subject to completion of a S106 legal agreement) at Planning Committee on 13 September 2023 under 22/00238/FULL for 94 units. This site similarly has a developer onboard, and therefore it is considered likely that the development will come forward within the five-year period once the S106 legal agreement has been completed and the decision has been issued.
28. With regard to sites identified on the Council's Brownfield Register, it is noted that the Register was updated following the completion of the Council's annual monitoring as at 1 April 2023. Consequently, as the Register is now a year out-of-date, the Council has decided not to incorporate any sites identified on the Register that are not already included within the five-year housing land supply period (as the majority of these sites are sites already with extant planning permission or are identified (SALP) sites) until updated work on these sites' deliverability is undertaken.
29. Indeed, for all extant consents (minor and major), the Council has contacted all developers, agents, and/or applicants regarding the status of their site(s) and have asked for a range of detailed information on phasing, build-out rates, start/implementation dates, etc. As previously mentioned, the Council has reviewed a number of alternative methods/sources of data where this information has not been made available through this first stage of correspondence. Where there has continued to be a lack of sufficient information on a site, the current/last recorded development status of an application and the Council's Housing Delivery Phasing and Build-out Rate Methodology (found in the Council's latest Housing Supply and Trajectory Topic Paper prepared for the PSLP) have been used to assess if a site is included within the five-year period.

30. The Housing Delivery Phasing and Build-out Rate Methodology has been developed to inform annual assessments as to when residential developments are likely to be brought forward and at what annual completion rate both for the Five-Year Housing Land Supply Statement and the emerging Local Plan Housing Trajectory. It also includes details of current processes the Council annually undertakes to gain information on each site.
31. As also mentioned within this statement, the Housing Delivery Phasing and Build-out Rate Methodology also details the current processes the Council undertakes annually to gain information on each site and explains the method of assessment used for when it has not been possible to obtain data from the development industry. The methodology also provides commentary on the phasing and expected build-out rate of housing sites based on site size and type. A range of different housing developers and planning agents had been consulted on this methodology and their feedback has been considered in its development.

Making an Unidentified Sites/Windfall Allowance

32. Windfall sites are sites that have not been specifically identified as available in the Local Plan process. They normally comprise previously developed sites that have become available for redevelopment. Paragraph 72 of the NPPF advises that "where an allowance is to be made for windfall sites as part of anticipated supply, there should be compelling evidence that they will provide a reliable source of supply. Any allowance should be realistic having regard to the strategic housing land availability assessment, historic windfall delivery rates and expected future trends". As part of the current Submission Local Plan, the Council has recently published a Development Strategy Topic Paper Addendum [PS 054] which assessed/reassessed the borough's windfall position as part of its review of the housing need and supply. This allowance is 152 dwellings per annum which begins from 1 April 2027 (year 4 of the current five-year period) as a means to avoid duplication of any extant planning permissions/existing windfalls within the first three years (within which extant planning permissions/existing windfalls are most likely to be fully delivered). The figure of 152 is derived from a small-sites (1-9 unit) windfall allowance of 122 dwellings per annum along with a large-sites (10+ unit) windfall allowance of 30 dwellings per annum. These allowances are based on historic windfall delivery rates within the borough as set out within the Development Strategy Topic Paper Addendum as well as the Council's recent Local Plan Examination Hearing Statement [TWLP 131].

33. Previously, the small sites windfall allowance had a conservative 20% discount applied (from 122), followed by an additional 20% deduction to 78 from 2030/31. Similarly, the large sites windfall allowance had also been deducted by 20% from 30 dwellings per annum. However, as above, further work carried out by the Council following the Local Plan's Inspector's Initial Findings Letter has revealed that, notwithstanding the effects of Covid-19, for both small and large windfall sites, completions have actually increased relative to previous averages, rather than fallen by 20% in the future, such that the Local Plan windfall allowances now appear too conservative. Moreover, consideration has also been given to likely increases in permitted development allowances. The Council has therefore revised its estimates (as set out above) which assumes a continuation of existing averages (i.e., rather than 80% of them):
34. The total annual windfall allowance has therefore increased by 30 dwellings per annum within the five-year housing land supply period from 122 (98 from small sites and 24 from large sites) to 152 (122 from small sites and 30 from large sites).

Housing Land Supply: Conclusions

35. The housing land supply position over the next five year period is always a snapshot in time and the calculation is based on the current housing requirement set by the Government's Standard Method. It is important to remember that the objective of the housing land supply position is not simply to achieve a four- or five-year supply of housing, but to maintain a minimum of four or five years' worth of housing supply plus any required buffer on an ongoing basis (as well as accounting for any surplus or shortfall in completions prior to the base date and within the emerging plan period).
36. The approach being used by the Council to calculate its housing land supply position is a cautious and robust one, only including those sites and allocations where development is likely to take place within the next five years. Developers, agents, and/or applicants have been contacted to confirm availability and provide information about phasing of delivery and expected build-out rates, and where no response has been received, the Council has taken a cautious approach to phasing and build-out rates by reviewing all alternative sources of data available and applying the Council's methodology where appropriate.
37. The Council has also prepared a revised SHELAA (see emerging Local Plan's Core Documents List [CD 3.77a-s]) as part of preparing the emerging Local Plan. This SHELAA document identifies suitable locations for economic and housing development across the borough and in turn identifies sufficient housing land to meet the emerging Local Plan's housing targets (based on the Standard Method) across the plan period (2020-2038). It is important to note that these emerging Local Plan site allocations, which have not previously been allocated in the SALP, have not been, and will not be, included in the annual Five-Year Housing Land Supply Statement until positive direction has been received by the Planning Inspector following the ongoing Local Plan Examination (such as in the form of an Inspector's Report). Following this, it is anticipated that emerging site allocations may be incorporated into subsequent Statements subject to the available evidence of deliverability at the time. In any case, the Council is confident that there is sufficient and clear evidence that a number of these emerging site allocations

(without planning permission at the base date of this Statement) will ensure a five-year housing land supply shortly (and upon Local Plan adoption), albeit it is not appropriate to include such allocations within the supply at present without independent endorsement from the Planning Inspector.

38. It is added that the PPG sets out that “in plan-making, strategic policies should identify a 5-year housing land supply from the intended date of adoption of the plan” (see Housing Supply and Delivery, Paragraph: 004 Reference ID: 68-004-20190722). Therefore, while this Housing Land Supply Statement represents the position marginally below a five-year supply as at 1 April 2024, an updated position will be published shortly post-adoption (the timetable for which is set out in the Council’s most recent Local Development Scheme) which will be expected, as mentioned above, to confirm a minimum five-year housing land supply position (as at 1 April 2025) as per the requirements of the PPG.
39. It should also be noted that the phasing and/or build-out rates of individual extant planning permissions and identified sites in this statement may differ slightly to the phasing of sites in the emerging Local Plan’s latest Housing Trajectory (the latest, published Housing Trajectory can be found in the Council’s June 2024 Action Note [\[PS 107\]](#) prepared for the Local Plan examination. The Council continues to monitor the emerging Plan’s housing trajectory having regard to the latest monitoring data. While it is common for phasing to naturally change each year, the main general reasons why this may be the case are as follows:
- A site may have been delivered sooner than previous evidence indicated (i.e., within the most recent monitoring year, either in part or in its entirety).
 - A site may have been implemented sooner or is taking longer to be implemented (e.g., due to the number of conditions which require discharging) than previous evidence indicated (which impacts on the estimated phasing of the site). Particularly for identified sites with no planning permission, a site may be pushed back if there has been a continued lack of recent planning activity, as well as taking into account the history of a site.
 - More up-to-date information (such as when an application is likely to be submitted for an identified site, or on phasing and build-out rates more generally) provided directly by developers, agents, and/or applicants, or through supplementary information provided as part of a more recent planning application.

40. The Council's current assessment of housing land supply, as at 1 April 2024, of 4.34 years is, while lower than previous years, considered to reflect the effective 'phasing-out' of the existing SALP, where the majority of these allocations have either been built or are under construction (mostly substantially), while at the same time the Council intends to adopt a new Local Plan with new allocations which will meet its local housing need over the new plan period. This is also reflected within the number of completions, where the number of housing units delivered within the last monitoring year (611) is lower compared to the number of completions within 2020/21 (688) and 2022/23 (636), albeit higher than the number in 2021/22 (518). In any case, lower house-building rates generally reflect national house-building trends following the Covid-19 Pandemic and its impact on the development industry. Despite this, as above, the Council is confident that the borough will have a strong five-year housing land supply position on adoption of the emerging Local Plan, evidenced by the large number of emerging site allocations which have already had recent substantial planning activity.

Appendix 1: Extant Planning Permissions

Table 3 (below) lists all extant planning consents as at 1 April 2024. For ease of reference, all extant planning consents in the Table have been ordered by net number of dwellings permitted (largest to smallest).

Appendix 2: Identified (non-Permitted) Site Allocations Local Plan (SALP; 2016) Sites Allocated in the Emerging Local Plan

Table 4 lists all non-consented identified sites (as allocated in the Site Allocations Local Plan (2016) and carried forward into the emerging Local Plan based on further assessment) that are considered to remain deliverable. It should be noted that not all sites considered to remain suitable for allocation are thought to be deliverable within the five-year housing land supply period. Those sites that have been removed from previous iterations of this Table now have planning permission or have received a resolution to grant planning permission (so are removed to avoid double-counting). It should also be noted that some of the sites in the Table may partly already benefit from planning permission; in these cases, it is the balance of the allocation that is phased.

If you are a planning applicant, developer or site promoter and would like to provide an update on your site to the Planning Policy team then please email us at planning.policy@tunbridgewells.gov.uk with the subject heading 'Five-Year Housing Land Supply Site Update'.

Appendix 3: Identified (non-Permitted) Site Allocations Adopted in the Benenden Neighbourhood Development Plan

Table 5 lists all non-consented identified sites in the Benenden Neighbourhood Development Plan which was ‘made’ by Tunbridge Wells Borough Council at Full Council on 23 February 2022. It is noted that SSP1 already has full planning permission and therefore has been excluded from the table.

If you are a planning applicant, developer or site promoter and would like to provide an update on your site to the Planning Policy team then please email us at planning.policy@tunbridgewells.gov.uk with the subject heading ‘Five-Year Housing Land Supply Site Update’.
